Dear Reader

The transport industry is changing with more and more emphasis on technology to solve the problems we're facing.

From Advanced Driver Assistance Systems and connected vehicles to live and predictive traveller information and roadside enforcement, Intelligent Transport Systems are changing all the time. And Smart Highways magazine will be there to explain, investigate and comment on ITS, focussing on how it affects us here in the UK.

Smart Highways fills the void between international ITS magazines and domestic Highways maintenance magazines. It offers the widest distribution in the UK of any ITS title.

The magazine is published both in print and digital format. There's also a new website containing useful articles, and a weekly email Digest of news from around the world.

I'd like to invite you to take up our two-year subscription to receive four printed editions per year @ £95 (UK) or £135 (International). If you'd also like to receive the Smart Highways 7 Days in ITS weekly email digest, please select the relevant box opposite.

Yours sincerely,

Neil Levett
Publisher, Smart Highways
